BIMTECH: "Workshop on Wheels"

Workshop on Wheels (WOW) is a combination of learning Koha - open source software and expedition to the religious city Mathura. To understand the challenges the libraries face in the digitalized world and to make our library professionals up to the mark, the professional will be trained in the latest software to manage hybrid libraries.

As many as 22 library professional, from different institutions across the country will be attending a three day national workshop "WOW" as they will hop on a bus equipped with computers and trainers and will travel from Greater Noida to Mathura.

The workshop is organized jointly by BIMTECH and Raja Ram Mohan Roy Library Foundation, an institute supported by Union Ministry of Culture from 2nd March to 4th March.

The library Professionals will be trained on Koha software, a high-end interface used to manage library inventories. According to Dr. Rishi Tiwari, Head Librarian BIMTECH the mobile workshop will provide an opportunity to the library professionals to interact with their counterparts in Mathura and make them understand nuances of hybrid libraries and challenges digitalisation poses.
