

Opinion

COURSE CORRECTION

Retro tax amendment will attract investments

Jagadish Shettigar/Pooja Misra | Updated on August 28, 2021

Transparency and certainty must be the hallmarks of a good tax regime - istock.com

Scrapping this tax will help restore foreign investors' confidence on India's tax regime

Retrospective tax is a tax levied on a deal or transaction which was conducted in the past. The amendment introduced in 2012 in the Finance Act

Any Framework Applications

Powerful SDK Tuned for All Major Frameworks

Bold BI