BIMTECH SIGNS MOU WITH HYDROCARBON SECTOR SKILL COUNCIL (HSSC)

On 18th February 2025, the Hydrocarbon Sector Skill Council (HSSC) and Birla Institute of Management Technology (BIMTECH) signed an MoU at the BIMTECH campus, marking a transformative partnership in skill development and capacity building.

HSSC, committed to workforce skill enhancement, joins forces with BIMTECH, a leader in education and research since 1988, to drive knowledge exchange and industry-focused training. BIMTECH has a strong track record in professional training, working with Public Sector Undertakings (PSUs) like GAIL India and international organizations such as Bhutan's Ministry of Skill Development.

With expertise in customized programs, BIMTECH aims to equip professionals with cutting-edge skills to meet the evolving demands of the Hydrocarbon sector. Their focus on national and international collaborations highlights their commitment to global skill development.

This partnership aligns HSSC's mission with BIMTECH's educational excellence, fostering a skilled workforce ready to contribute to India's energy future. By addressing industry challenges and promoting sustainable growth, this collaboration is set to make a lasting impact, benefiting both professionals and the broader economy.
